

LIVE UNITED™

HOW YOU CAN HELP: DISABILITY SERVICES

Everyday in our community, people with disabilities work to remain active in our community.

“Volunteering and getting involved in many activities is a big part of who I am,” says Lois Goodman, a Rochester Institute of Technology retiree and community volunteer. “I am thankful that I’ve been able to accomplish this in Rochester.”

One in seven Monroe County residents has at least one disability, ranging from sensory or physical disabilities to mental disabilities that affect learning, memory or concentration. You can help ensure these individuals maximize their independence as fully engaged members of our community by giving to United Way’s Community Fund.

United Way of Greater Rochester’s community investments – as part of our strategic plan called Blueprint for Change: Disability Services – will support programs that work to maintain or increase the independence and mobility of people with disabilities.

Together, we can help every member of our community to live the best life possible. Together, we can LIVE UNITED. Thank you for your support.

“The nicest thing
you can do when you meet someone with a disability is to focus on their abilities.”

—Lois Goodman, RIT retiree
